SMALL BOATS RIGHT IN LUCK

Make Large Hauls of Big Tinkers in Barnstable Bay—Big Seiners Bring Mixed Fish at T Wharf.

With nine fresh mackerel trips at T wharf, Boston, this morning, and one yesterday afternoon, it looked like the old-time mackerel days again, the total receipts being over 900 barrels of mixed fish and 35 barrels of salt ones.

The little fleet of steamers, which landed the bulk of the fish took their hauls in Barnstable Bay, securing mostly tinkers. The fish are a "good sized" tinker, unusually fat for this time of the year and average a pound apiece, or 15 to the iced barrel.

Steamer Nora B. Robinson, A. Cooney & Company's boat, came in here last evening with a big fare, hailing for 30,000 fish in count. She sailed for Boston for today's market.
